

Do you enjoy or are you good at HOSPITALITY?

Have you considered the occupations below?

EMILY – Travel consultant

When I finished school I spent some time living overseas, working in customer service jobs and travelling around as much as possible. When I returned home, I was able to turn my passion for travel and my overseas experiences into a career as a travel consultant. My training as a travel consultant has all been gained on the job, and has included completion of a traineeship in tourism, specialising in retail travel services. I also attend one and two day training sessions every now and then to learn about different destinations and stay up-to-date with new products.

JAMES – Tour guide

When I left school I didn't really know what I wanted to do. My sister was completing a traineeship in tourism, and really enjoying it, so I thought I'd look into doing something similar. I now work as a tour guide in a national park and love meeting people from different cultures and countries, and having the opportunity to share my culture with them. At times, even changing their understanding of Aboriginal people. It's really satisfying to know that I'm giving park visitors an experience they may not otherwise have had, and when they go home, I'll be part of their holiday memories and stories.

LEVEL 1 Completion of Year 10, Senior Secondary Certificate of Education, Certificate I or II. Australian Apprenticeships may be offered at this level.

LEVEL 2 Certificate III or IV or at least three years relevant experience. Australian Apprenticeships may be offered at this level.

LEVEL 3 Diploma or Advanced Diploma. Study is often undertaken through TAFEs or Registered Training Organisations. Some universities offer studies at this level.

LEVEL 4 Usually requires the completion of a Bachelor Degree or higher qualification. Study is often undertaken at university.